

Harness Racing Breeders Fund Rules and Regulations

With the enactment of Act 71 (“Gaming Act”), the General Assembly provided new funding opportunities for the standardbred racing industry by directing the Bureau of Standardbred Horse Racing (“Commission”) to adopt and administer a standardbred breeders program. Act 71 also provided additional funding to continue to nurture the existing sire stakes program for the betterment of the standardbred racing industry.

Through the Commission, the Standardbred Breeders’ Advisory Committee was established and assigned the task of creating guidelines by which standardbred horse owners/breeders could participate in this voluntary program and to receive specific stallion, breeder and/or sired and bred awards (money) for their horse’s participation.

Below are the established procedures which the Commission has concluded must be followed by any individual who wants his/her horse to be eligible for the standardbred breeders program and to receive the breeders’ program awards. Since the breeders’ program is a voluntary program, failure to comply with the set procedures and informational requirements could result in the horse not being eligible for the program benefits.

The established procedures are subject to change on an annual basis. Suggested modifications or revisions to the breeders and sire stakes programs can be requested by contacting the Commission and the Standardbred Breeders’ Advisory Committee in writing. The Commission and the Standardbred Breeders’ Advisory Committee will discuss and determine the necessity to adopt any changes necessary to maintain a quality program.

The Bureau of Standardbred Horse Racing will establish a Pennsylvania Standardbred Breeders Advisory Committee (SBAC) which shall consist of a Commissioner from the Pennsylvania Harness Racing Commission, the Bureau Director of the Bureau of Standardbred Horse Racing, two representatives from the breeders, one racetrack representative, and one racing horsemen’s representative.
